

Court Order Only Thing to End Dock Strike

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Resort to a court injunction appeared today to the governments only recourse to end the nine-day maritime strike.

President Kennedy was due to confer today with Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg on the increasingly grave shipping tie-ups.

Unions have turned Goldberg down cold on his proposal for a 60-day strike truce to let government factfinders study the dispute issues—including a demand for bargaining rights on American-owned foreign flag vessels—and come up with a settlement formula.

Although shipping operators accused the Goldberg plan the union turn-downs seemed to doom it.

The labor secretary, a union attorney who masterminded the 1959 steel strike before he joined Kennedy's Cabinet, could come up with alternate settlement proposals. But negotiations in New York are almost hopelessly deadlocked and mounting shipping losses soon will compel the administration to consider invoking the Taft-Hartley law emergency provisions allowing an 80-day court injunction in such situations.

This is reportedly distasteful both to Kennedy, who voted against Taft-Hartley while in Congress, and to Goldberg, with his labor union background. Both feel an injunction would stop the strike but not the dispute, which could develop into another and perhaps worse strike later on.

Gov. William F. Quinn of Hawaii Friday night urged the President to invoke the Taft-Hartley law to prevent emergency conditions in the island state.

Even when the Taft-Hartley emergency provisions are invoked it takes a week or so before a strike-ending court injunction can be obtained.

The required legal steps include naming a White House board to investigate and certify the nation's health or safety is in peril.

This is generally regarded as legal rigamarol, but it does provide time for Goldberg, in full charge of the situation for Kennedy, to maneuver behind scenes to try to break the stalemate.

The core of the problem is a rivalry among the unions, with Presidents Paul Hall of the Seafarers and Joseph Curran of the National Maritime Union, each trying to come out with the fastest settlement. Four other unions involved have divided between the two camps.

The ship owners, having in the past given a better deal either to

Border Work Plan Delayed by the U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has laid aside indefinitely a plan it had been considering to close the Mexican border to Mexicans commuting daily to jobs in Laredo and El Paso, Tex.

However, a study has been launched at points along the Mexican and Canadian borders to determine the extent of foreign commuting to jobs in U. S. cities hard hit by unemployment.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg said in a statement today, apparently elicited by a protest from Mexico, that no hasty action was contemplated and none will be taken until after interested governments are consulted.

Goldberg has consulted with the Mexican ambassador. Following that the Mexican Foreign Ministry announced Thursday night that the ambassador, Antonio Carrillo Flores, had been assured that no closure action was immediately contemplated.

The U. S. Immigration Service also reported today that it has taken no action to lift passes of Mexicans commuting to jobs at El Paso and Laredo.

Officials several days ago had stated that on the basis of complaints from building trades, retail and hotel-restaurant workers they expected to start a drive in about two weeks to lift commuting passes of Mexicans.

They indicated, at the time, similar action might be taken in the future at other points along the Mexican border and possibly the Canadian border.

Communism Likened to Goliath

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII says communism is like the Biblical giant Goliath who was cut down by David with his slingshot.

The Pope did not mention communism by name, but the intent of his words was very clear, Vatican sources said today.

He gave the impression to members of the Clerical Missionary Union in a special audience two days ago. The Pope's address was released today by the Vatican Press Office.

"We are before Goliath," said the Pope, "and perhaps we are using too many words that might better be used in prayer or in formulating advice to sanctify our lives."

"We face one who seems enormous, but he is not strong. He is not valid. At times we feel fear, are afraid of the thought of tomorrow. And yet this giant must give before the will of grace and pity of God."

"We must not think that there must be universal destruction and ruin or the victory of this Goliath, because even in his dominion there are souls who are nourished by our same light and who remain faithful and very close to us, participating in the same apostolic and Christian ideals."

"The simplicity of the little David before the giant truly represents the Catholic Church, holy and blessed."

"Let the giant come with his immense menace. Like the youth of Bethlehem (David) the sons of the Church of Christ—clergy and laymen—will receive him with the force of God."

Big Night for Arkansas Delegate

ATLANTA (AP)—It was an extra big night for one delegate to the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce national convention.

Guy Pardew of Jonesboro, Ark., received word during the late hours of balloting for the presidency of the organization that his wife had given birth to twins.

Even Pardew did not learn the news for a while, however, as the call for him came to Municipal Auditorium during fifth ballot vote switches. Convention officials were unable to notify him immediately due to the confusion on the floor.

The Jaycees elected Bob Conner, 33, Jackson, Tenn., lumber dealer, as their new president on the sixth ballot.

Traskwood Wreck Cause Unknown

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A committee investigating the explosion of a Missouri Pacific freight train at Traskwood, Ark. last Dec. 17 says the cause of the blast may never be known.

S. B. Johnson of St. Louis, chairman of the Ammonium Nitrate Committee of the Manufacturing Chemists Association, said the committee—after conducting numerous tests—had no idea what touched off the explosion in a derailed train.

The blast injured about 20 persons and damaged property a mile away.

Johnson said his committee's final report probably would be released through the Federal Bureau of Mines.

Gas Agreement Okay by PSC

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Public Service Commission Friday approved agreements through which Gillett and Waldron will build natural gas systems and lease them to Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. and Fort Smith Gas Corp., respectively. It accepted request from Marmaduke, Black Oak, Caraway and Lake City to make a similar contract with Arkansas-Missouri Power Co.

Religious Group Places Store in Rib

By WILTON WYNN

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—An ancient Egyptian religious sect believed that if the rib had stayed inside Adam's chest, mankind would have been spared a lot of misery.

This sect believed that so long as the woman was inside Adam's chest, there was no death and the world was a paradise. But separation of woman from man was one of the "mistakes" in a bad job of creation that brought no end of trouble to the world.

The primitive people who held these ideas were known as the "Gnostics" and were considered heretics by other early Christians. Scholars have discovered the theorizing about Adam's rib in Gnostic "gospels" found 13 years ago in a monastery near Nag Hammadi in upper Egypt but only now being fully studied.

There are hints in these writings that suggest the Gnostics may have practiced ceremonial nudism and perhaps engaged in mysterious sexual rites.

These writings are in the Coptic (Old Egyptian) language, and scholars consider them among the most important historical finds in many years. Most of the writings are now in the Coptic Museum in Old Cairo.

The documents include a series of gospels—the "Gospel of Truth," the "Gospel of Philip," the "Gospel of Thomas." There also are three versions of the "Apocrypha of John."

Writing on the subject in the Biblical Archaeologist, Dr. Floyd V. Filson of McCormick Theological Seminary notes that early Christians writers accused the Gnostics of irregular sexual practices, and some hints in the Gospel of Philip document indicate their suspicions may have been well founded.

In Philip's Gospel, the holy of holies in the temple is called the "bedchamber" and there are references to giving birth and conceiving by kissing.

Department Store Sales Increase

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Department store sales in the 8th Federal Reserve District last week were up four per cent over the corresponding week last year, the Federal Reserve Bank here announced today.

Louisville showed a 13 per cent increase. The Memphis area was off 4 per cent and Little Rock showed a one per cent decline.

For the four-week period ending June 17, Little Rock sales were off 6 per cent from the same period last year. For the year to date, Little Rock shows a 4 per cent decline.

Discontent Is Worse, Adlai Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson reported to President Kennedy today that he found increasing discontent and a worsening economic situation during his 10-day tour of South America.

Stevenson told newsmen after reporting to the President on his journey to 10 South American capitals that the situation in that part of the hemisphere has deteriorated since he traveled through the same area a year ago.

But, Stevenson added, "There is more universal awareness of the necessity for making social reforms in all of these countries."

Stevenson said the U. S. role in the Cuban invasion was unpopular in South America, where "the principle of nonintervention is a religion."

Stevenson, on the other hand, said the alliance for progress program enunciated by Kennedy to raise economic and social standards throughout the southern half of the hemisphere is generally regarded as "the dawn of a new day in our relations."

Migratory Bird Laws Changed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interior Department today announced several amendments to the basic migratory bird hunting regulations to tighten daily bag limit provisions and make other changes.

One amendment will limit the total number of birds a hunter may take in one day and the total past it was possible for a hunter legally to take a daily bag limit on the same day in each of two or more states or areas for which a separate daily bag limit had been prescribed.

With the beginning of the 1961-62 hunting seasons, a hunter's "aggregate daily bag limit" will be equal to but may not exceed the largest number of birds he can legally take in any one state or area in a day.

Another amendment is aimed at curbing wanton waste of migratory game birds through the killing of less desirable species for "target practice" with no effort being made to relieve or utilize such birds.

This change requires a hunter to make a reasonable effort to retrieve any migratory game bird killed by him and include such bird in his daily bag limit.

Other amendments include a clarification of "termination of possession" by hunters; the addition of the use of artificial decoys as a manually or mouth-operated bird calls to the list of permitted hunting methods; the addition of the pistol to the list of prohibited hunting methods; the exportation of lawfully taken and possessed birds; and the importation of red-billed pigeons.

The bag limits for 1961-62 will be announced late in the summer.

About Everyone Has a Pet Bible Story — Here Are Some Favorites of Local Folks

By MARY ANITA LASETER

We in the South are proud of the fact that we live in what is sometimes called the Bible Belt. Not that that fact makes us any better, but it does mean that as a whole the population is trying to learn how to be better.

For instance, most of the churches in the area are conducting Bible Schools now, have just completed them, or are about to begin them. And one of the most popular programs on our local radio station, KXAR, is entitled "Know Your Bible." All these factors led your Inquiring Reporter to pose this question to some of our citizens: What is your favorite Bible story in the Old Testament and why?

REV. RUFUS SORRELLS: My favorite is the story of Gideon as found in the Book of Judges, because it speaks out in the time of hopelessness to show us we should not depend only on ourselves but should seek help from a higher Being. Also, it illustrates that it is not the number of people but the kind of individuals that win the battles of life.

MRS. W. C. BRUNER: The entire span of the life of David is so much like ours with successes, failures, shortcomings, and triumphs that I find it my first choice. The facts that he composed the beautiful Psalms, found forgiveness for his sins, and overcame many weaknesses increase my fondness for him and the story of his life.

MISS KATHLEEN BROACH: Joseph and his coat of many colors have a special appeal to children, and having worked with the small fry so long makes that my preference. The exciting story lends itself easily to dramatization making it easier to understand the lesson of forgiveness.

DR. L. T. LAWRENCE: Of course, the most outstanding thing in the Old Testament is the prophecy of Christ's coming, but that could hardly be called a "story." Outstanding in that category to me is the Genesis account of Joseph, for it shows God's control of history.

MRS. F. M. HORTON: All women like a love story, and no prettier one can be found anywhere than in the Book of Ruth. It is my favorite story in the Old Testament also because of the beautiful relationship shown between a young woman and her mother-in-law.

MRS. DORSEY McRAE: I particularly like the story of Elisha's faith in Elijah and his admiration of the older man's character. He held Elijah in such high esteem that he tried to follow in his footsteps and thereby to be benefited by the elder wisdom and experience.

DR. JOHN McCLANAHAN: In all the Old Testament my favorite story is that of Hosea, the nearest presentation of the concept of God as later revealed in Jesus Christ. It is the greatest Old Testament revelation of God as a God of Love.

Navy Dedicates New Radio Station

CUTLER, Maine (AP)—The Navy dedicated a new radio station today, the most powerful low frequency station in the world, and assigned it the call letters "NAA"—which for years was known the world over as the identity of the Navy's pioneer radio station at Arlington, Va.

The dedication speaker was Rear Adm. Frank Virden, director of naval communications. Adm. Virden said it is only fitting that the new $70 million facility is at Cutler near each yearly armed lumber schooner 186 years ago engaged the British cutter Margareta, and scored the first American naval victory of the Revolutionary War.

The new station, which covers a 3,000-acre site will be able to communicate with ships and airplanes anywhere in the world, and even with the deep diving atomic powered new submarines under the seas.

It is the basic home radio for the fleet of Polaris missile submarines.

Kennedy Is Reportedly Feeling Fine

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy, "feeling fine" in the words of an aide, deserted his sick bed today and played host to Japanese Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda.

Kennedy, confined to bed Thursday by a bacteria and virus infection, posed for photographs with the prime minister and then walked into the driveway of the executive mansion to bid a personal farewell.

Ikeda paid a farewell call closing out three days of high-level talks.

The crutches that a back strain had forced Kennedy to use before he was felled by illness were nowhere in sight. He walked slowly, but if he limped at all it was so slightly as to be hardly discernible.

Kennedy canceled a scheduled wind-up conference with Ikeda Thursday after coming down with the virus infection which shut his temperature to 101.6 degrees before it broke. His doctor reported late Thursday that he was covering very nicely. Kennedy set out to prove it today.

He did, however, yield to advice from the White House physician, Dr. Janet Travell, and agree to remain in his second-floor living quarters in the mansion. Kennedy had passed the word that he planned to divide his time between the mansion itself and his office in the west wing.

Dr. Travell made it clear that she would prefer him to stay in his upstairs quarters. He received Ikeda there.

Aides reported Kennedy feeling "fine."

Answers on the Troubled Berlin Issue

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—The simple meat and potato question—WHY?—gets lost in the noisy East West struggle over Berlin. Here are some of the answers.

Since the war the West and the Soviet Union have discussed uniting Germany. They've never agreed on how. The West insists on free elections to set up a single German government. The Russians have never bought that. The result: two Germanys.

The Western powers are allied with West Germany. Russia is allied with Communist East Germany, which the West refuses to recognize as a legitimate government. The reason: It was not created through free elections.

But there are also really two Berlins. West Berlin, with its 2 million people, is linked to West Germany. The Communists hold East Berlin as the capital of East Germany.

But the city happens to lie 110 miles inside East Germany. Therefore, all people and supplies, bound for Berlin from the West, must pass through or over Communist territory.

The West insists these supply routes must not be interfered with. And, except for former Soviet Premier Stalin's unsuccessful effort to blockade in 1948-49, the Russians have kept the routes open.

Russia has kept control of those routes out of the hands of the East Germans even though it recognizes the Communist regime in East Germany as a sovereign government. To have done otherwise would have created an awkward situation.

What would the allies do if the East Germans, whom they don't recognize, attempted to tell them what they could or couldn't send over those supply routes? It could have produced a mess.

But the United States, Britain and France keep troops in West Berlin. They're too few to mean anything militarily. Any all-out Communist attack would roll over them. They're not so much a force as a symbol.

But there's a main point involved here: The West insists it has a right of free access to Berlin for people and supplies and a right to keep troops in the city. It says those rights were agreed to by the Russians after the war.

But West Berlin has become a pain to the Communists, for various reasons. This highly prosperous part of

U. S. Strikes Firm Note on Berlin Crisis

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—"The United States today struck a 'firm but not belligerent' note in the growing crisis over Berlin, avoiding any show of military preparations."

In the background, U. S. British, French and West German diplomats sought agreement on how best to meet the new threat raised by Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Coming away from a conference with President Kennedy and top level officials Friday, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told newsmen there are no plans at this time to strengthen the 5,000-man U. S. garrison in Berlin or to increase its firepower.

McNamara also said "We have no immediate plans for increasing the forces in Europe," adding:</

Chandler Leaves Estate in Trust

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jeff Chandler's attorney has filed in Superior Court a signed carbon copy of the actor's will, under which Chandler left more than $600,000 in trust for his two daughters.

A petition accompanying the will Thursday said the original of the document, dated June 9, 1959, had not been found. The court was asked to recognize the carbon copy.

The will made no provision for Chandler's former wife Marjorie. She received a property settlement at the time of the couple's divorce. The divorce became final Aug. 16, 1960 and the daughters Jamie, now 14, and Dana, now 11, have lived with her since.

Chandler, 42, died June 17 of complications following a back operation.

More Savings Has Marchan a Bit Worried

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Individuals' savings are getting fatter. And merchants are getting restive. Retail sales have risen slightly in recent days after barely holding even with last year through most of 1961.

But total savings have risen much faster—at a greater rate, in fact, than any time since the 1958 recession. People have the money. Many are holding onto it. Something has to give, the merchants figure. And when the consumer starts buying again in his old free-wheeling way, the recovery now centered largely in manufacturing will be confirmed. Even more reassuring to the retailers, especially those handling durable goods, will be the time when consumers return to the good old American way and the volume of new installment debt starts to swell.

But, when? Some count on summer weather to soften up the buying instincts. Others think that the real recovery will follow Labor Day, when vacation expenses are out of the way, and jobs may be more plentiful and seem safer. If you doubt that savings have been increasing, because your own haven't or may have shrunk, here's the official figures of the Securities and Exchange commission.

It says they went up by $5 billion in the first three months of 1961, or $1.3 billion more than in the like period a year ago. Banks, savings & loan associations, insurance companies and mutual funds report the trend has continued.

Some retailers thought sales of big-ticket items were sticky because people were putting their money into the stock market. But the SEC says that except for investment in mutual funds and U.S. savings bonds the holdings of securities dropped by $1.1 billion. Brokers also have noted that in recent weeks holders of small amounts of stock have been selling rather than buying, leaving much of the stock market support to the institutional investors.

Murphy Absorbs Another Company

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—Murphy Oil Corp. plans to absorb the Ingram Oil and Refining Co. of New Orleans, it was announced today.

Directors of both companies will meet next Wednesday to refer the proposed transaction to the stockholders, who must approve. The announcement was made jointly by C. H. Murphy Jr., president of the Murphy company, and O. H. Ingram, president of the Ingram company.

Ingram is a private-owned refinery and marketer operating in the southeastern United States. Its refinery output is 200,000 barrels of crude a day. It has seven product terminals along inland waterways and markets in seven states.

The Ingram Barge Co. and the Wood River Oil Refining Co. of Minnesota are separately owned by the Ingram family. They are not involved in the pending merger.

Actor Lives Abroad, Gets Criticized

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

First of two articles
STOCKHOLM (AP) — William Holden, formerly of California and now a resident of Switzerland, finds himself the center of controversy for that reason.

He has been attacked by Congress, lashed by his fellow film workers of Hollywood and criticized indirectly by the actors' union of which he was once an officer.

"I'm living the kind of life that I think is best for me and my family," he says. "I'll continue to do so, no matter what laws are changed and what anybody says."

Holden is the most noted and the most articulate of the film personalities who have taken up life in Switzerland. Hollywood set-worker unions have castigated him for allegedly aiding "runaway production" of American films abroad. The Kennedy administration, undoubtedly, with an eye on Holden, has recommended eliminating tax havens overseas for the likes of wealthy actors.

Certain senators have agreed. So has Holden's own union, the Screen Actors' Guild.

Holden says, "What the senators and the Guild are talking about is their problem. It couldn't bother me less."

As far as he is concerned, it is much ado about little. "They talk about all the American stars who are living in Switzerland," Holden said. "Well, who are they? David Niven? He's English. Deborah Kerr. She's English. Peter Ustinov? He's English. Noel Coward? He's English. Audrey Hepburn? She's Dutch-English."

"Then they mention Ava Gardner. But wait a minute — she's living in Spain, isn't she? So who does that leave? Me. That's all." The actor remarked: "It seems to me that Americans have always been noted for moving around, for being unafraid of new challenges, new frontiers. Now certain people are trying to tell us to stay at home and not work abroad. It's a form of isolationism."

"Why did President Kennedy propose the peace corps if not to get Americans to live and work in foreign lands?" "They can change the laws any way they like. That won't make things any different for me. Living in Switzerland has been the most rewarding experience of my life."

It All Depends on the Mother

IT ALL DEPENDS ON THE MOTHER

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: This is a bouquet to my mother—we having just celebrated her birthday. If ever there was a finer wife and mother, I have yet to hear of it.

I'll never forget my first "official" date. I got home around quarter of 12. Mom was waiting up with every light on, as a cheerful welcome. She opened the door wide and greeted my date with the friendliest smile but she made it clear I was to come in then and there. Ever since this boy has treated me with the greatest respect. We are one of the closest families in all California. I hope nothing will ever happen to change this.

I wish every girl might have a mother as wonderful and understanding as mine. Could you print this tribute to her so that she will see it? Annette Marie Caponetto, Palos Verdes Estates, Calif.

Dear Annette: This tribute to your mother should set an example to other daughters and mothers! You are living proof that you have a mother qualified in the real sense of the word, to be a mother. Unfortunately, as this day's mail testifies, not all come up to her standards.

Not long ago I published a letter from a possessive mother who regretted the fact that she had lost her son to an ungrateful daughter-in-law. This sparked dozens of letters from infuriated daughters-in-law. Here's a lively one:

Dear Helen: That selfish mother insults my right to be a woman.

the city is a Western outpost and showcase in the middle of the Communist world. It is a refuge for East Germans fleeing Communism.

And the allies' troops there are a symbol of freedom—so long as West Berlin remains free it holds out hope to anti-Communists behind the Iron Curtain that they may in time become free too.

And the Western troops there are a symbol of Western support to the West Berliners. And as long as the present situation endures, the attempt by Russia to make the East German government look like a power in its own right are all reasons for Premier Khrushchev to force a change. If he can force West to make concessions on Berlin, it will weaken the confidence of the Western allies in themselves.

This is particularly true because West Berlin is a key example of Western determination and good faith in upholding the rights of the West against Communist encroachment.

So Khrushchev says those postwar agreements on Berlin are outdated by events. He wants the West to pull its troops out of West Berlin. He wants it, he says, to be a demilitarized "free city." But he won't permit any change where the Communists are boss. In the status of East Berlin, he wants the West to recognize Communist East Germany as a legitimate government. Whether it does or not, he says, he will turn control of those access routes to Berlin over to East Germany.

Khrushchev has made it plain the question of continuing to use those routes to Berlin would have to be settled between the West and the East Germans, whom the West insists are not a real government. This would put the West on the spot.

So long as it insists on the present arrangement, the West can insist it has the right, based on postwar agreements, to use the routes to Berlin and keep troops there.

Once it agreed to Khrushchev's demands, it would yield its rights, could no longer claim them, and have toicker as best it could with the East Germans who might let supplies through as a concession but not as a right.

In the end such a Western retreat—together with all the hard-panky the Communists could cook up in the years ahead to make Western contact with Berlin difficult—would almost certainly mean the loss of West Berlin to communism.

the hotel; one strolled leisurely away.

Mr. Morgan walked up the stairs of an old brownstone house located in a somewhat rundown part of the city. It had a sign in the window, "Carefree House" — "Room and Board" by the month Mrs. Mangano, Prop."

Mr. Morgan unlocked the door opened it and closed it. He put down his umbrella, his flight bag and his hat. Then he signed contentedly.

Mrs. Mangano came into the front hall. "Welcome home, Mr. Morgan. And where did you go today? India? Africa? The South Seas?"

"Dusseldorf, Mrs. Mangano," Mr. Morgan replied. "It's in Germany. Lovely city. Beautiful public squares. You really should go there some time. Good night."

Mr. Morgan picked up his umbrella, his flight bag and his hat and walked up the stairs to his room. He was in a hurry to get out a travel folder from Lufthansa, the German air line.

He was anxious to learn if he had overlooked anything about Dusseldorf.

Mystery of Vanishing Marigolds

By FRANCIS STILLEY
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—As pumpkinhead amateur gardeners go, I just about went batty—trying to solve the mystery of my vanishing marigolds.

It's a goofy story, though when I tell it I get the impression people think it's me who's goofy. Here's what happened:

I started some small marigolds in pots in the house. When they got about three inches tall, I transplanted them to the postage-stamp-sized garden in front of my apartment.

I basked in a warm glow of satisfaction, knowing that not only my marigolds but the petunias, zinnias, cosmos, and pansies all were going to do well this year. After all, I put 100 pounds of peat moss, two bushels of humus and gallons of a super-duper liquid-growth mixture into my 1-100,000th of an acre.

A few days after transplanting the small marigolds, I discovered they were disappearing one by one. The peculiar part was that they had been snapped off cleanly at the stem about an inch above ground.

At first, I thought perhaps stray boomerangs from neighbor children had done it. But this is a yo-yo year.

Then, while sitting on the front porch one night, I was sure I had the answer. Several stray cats threw a party in my garden, all but wrecking a fine clump of pinks before I could break up the festivities.

This explanation didn't hold up either, unfortunately. The marigolds kept disappearing—but now, roots and all, without a trace left.

At dusk a few days ago came the astonishing revelation. While standing in front of the house, chatting with a neighbor lady who hadn't planted any marigolds in her garden, my eye happened to fall on my own botanical wonderland.

A bird about the size of a robin was just yanking out another of the marigolds. And zoom—like a Redstone rocket it went whizzing right by me, clutching my marigold in its pesky beak. In a few seconds, it was out of sight behind buildings across the street.

Woman Ties a Youth on Railway

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Police combed Buffalo's North Side today for a woman who lured a boy away from his playmates, tied him with butcher's twine and left him, gagged, beside a railroad track. It was the second such event in that section this year.

Richard Edington, 5, managed to free himself shortly after his experience Thursday. Except for a few scratches on his arms and legs from scrambling through bushes, he was not injured.

He told police the woman had told him they were going to play "cowboy and Indians," stripped him to his underwear, then stuffed a gag in his mouth and a plastic bag over his head before binding him. He was not sexually molested.

The case paralleled another last April in which a North Side girl was lured to a railroad right-of-way by a woman and left there bound and gagged. She was found unhurt.

Police said descriptions of the woman by the children were similar. She is apparently middle-aged and mentally deranged.

Firm Policy on Berlin Is Offered

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., offered a resolution today to put the Senate on record as backing a firm policy for continued support of West Berlin.

He said it would help erase "any ambiguity in U.S. policy" that may have been raised by the suggestion of Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana for an internationally protected "free city" of both East and West Berlin.

In a speech prepared for delivery in the continuing debate over the Berlin crisis, Javits said that if Mansfield's suggestion were accepted, "all of Berlin would be Communist in six months—and Germany would be divided forever."

The United States, Javits declared, must safeguard its obligation to remain in Berlin with the same coolness and the same determination that the Russians are using, not only on that front, but on others.

"I would be the last to say that this is not without risk," the New York Republican continued, "but I would be the first to say that it is a risk which if not taken is likely to lead to reverses far worse in character—and could lead to defeat."

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ind., proposed that President Kennedy form a bipartisan consultative committee of foreign policy experts for "a full review and consideration of every aspect of the German and Berlin issues."

He suggested such a group, which would include former Republican Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and former Democratic Secretary Dean Acheson, work under Secretary of State Dean Rusk and consult with former Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower and Harry S. Truman.

Such a committee, Cooper said, would provide Kennedy with "the broadest base of support for the decisions he will be required to make" on Berlin.

Manpower Director Fools You

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—When you read that the new director of the National Manpower Council is a woman, do you immediately picture a formidable female armed with horn-rimmed glasses, statistics, Ph.D. degrees and no-nonsense efficiency?

Then Myrna Ball would come as a surprise. She's a small, trim brunette—friendly, and youthful looking. She never studied economics.

"I was lucky," she says. "The fact I was a woman and, among other limitations, didn't have a degree, didn't keep the council from recognizing what I could do and giving me a chance to do it."

She smiles, waves her hand to include the surrounding Columbia University campus visible through her office's open windows, and says: "It's fascinating, not having a degree in a world increasingly conscious of degrees, and to find oneself working in a setting where so much weight is put on them."

Miss Ball has been working with the council since 1953, two years after it was established by the Ford Foundation.

Three years ago she became associate director.

One and a half years ago she married her boss, Dr. Henry David.

When Dr. David resigned as director recently to take over the presidency of the New School for Social Research, Miss Ball was appointed to succeed him by the council's 18 members, all distinguished people in the fields of industry, labor, public service and education.

"The council," she explains, "is a policy-influencing group. It studies important manpower problems and contributes to the better development and utilization of the nation's manpower reaction by many kinds of groups."

HUNTING AND FISHING

OLYMPIA, Wash. (NEA)—The mystery surrounding a highly unusual fish kill at Spectacle Lake, Okanogan County, Wash., has been solved by a biologist of the State Game Department.

The death of about 2,000 fish was traced by Roy Strickland to a water flea called Daphnia.

During warm weather in the first two weeks in January, parts of Spectacle Lake thawed and opened up, according to Strickland's investigation. Elsewhere on the lake one or two inches of water formed on top of the ice.

SOURCE of POWER

It looks easy!

In no time at all this solid log is cut clean through. There's a reason. Because back of the saw is sufficient power to do the job... penetrating power. Oh, the power that could be loosed from your life and mine if we were but willing... inexhaustible power... mountains of power that could penetrate a wicked world and turn it Godward. Jesus said, "All power is given unto me." Then why not make contact with God this very day — the source of real power. He said, "Lo, I am with you always." Attend church and give Him a chance to help rewind the mainspring of your life. Link it up with the billion-volt-dynamo in the Power Room of The Most High.
